MR. SEA

HIMSELF

AMAZED!

It is, perhaps, natural to esteem one's own efforts more highly than do disinterested critics; none the less, however, do we know beyond peradventure that tomorrow's display will eclipse anything ever attempted by any one firm.

We will positively display at our Wabash-av. Bazaar richer, more costly, finer, rarer, and more artistic wares than can be found in the combined stocks of every store in Chicago.

No one roof ever covered such a scene of gay splendor. We know it; we can prove it; you will admit it.

Instead of two floors (as advertised yesterday) we have secured three great Double Store Floors, at Nos. 114 & 116 Wabash-av., and have induced (by the payment of One Thousand Dollars, no more and no less) the wholesale milliner occupying to yield us all of his main floor premises, and tomorrow will find it transformed as if by magic.

Santa Claus comes out of a real old-fashioned chimney and fire-place this year.

Live Parisian Dolls play with Parisian Dolls that are the same size.

A whole brood of Canary Birds are dressed as dolls, and cut up capers.

Mons. Josepha, the Magician, and Signor Faranti, the Ventriloquist, have been specially engaged.

Punch and Judy and new Talking and Moving Marionettes also at Sea's tomorrow.

The Largest and Finest Christmas Tree, with Calcium Light Illuminations, at Sea's.

A Gas-Making Machine, a Baby Show, Liberty Pyramid, and an entire room appearing as one huge Xmas Tree.

Freiberg's Popular Orchestra.

The wondrous What Is It? called Jack in the Box.

The most costly exhibition ever attempted.

Presents that cost money to every visitor at

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1883.

Current weather today.

War between Peace and Chaos is not quite a sure thing.

Nineteen Lovely coeds in Lodi Seminary of St. Ambrose University after all. A new election will be ordered.

Gonorrhea is 500 points behind Tigrean in the straight contest of Gilbert et Carte. Four nights less passed in the game.

Four yesterday morning destroyed the Hotel Clifton, at Boston, Mass. The guests escaped. The loss is $200,000; insurance, $125,000.

Theodore Tilton, the woman who hired Charles Otis, was released from the penitentiary yesterday and has arrived in Chicago.

Georgia may get the Republican vote for President, as the Republicans say, but the quest ion immediately arises—the quest ion to ignore in advance or to kill in an early stable.

Rabbi Hirschfeld, the wife of Patrick O'Donnell, the slayer of James Carey, the informer, left Philadelphia yesterday for London to be present at the trial of her husband.

At one Rev. Warren H. Cudworth was trading in prayer at a union service at Washington in Boston yesterday forenoon, he was struck with appalling and fell dead in the pulpit.

Lieut. Greeley, of the Lady Grey expedition, was yesterday badly hurt while riding a spirited horse. He was in the park surrounding the Soldiers' Home, which is a short distance out at Washington.

Tennessee morning market journalists on the sixth within a few days—are startled to a bloodshot here. The object of the here-hereto control is granted by the authorities, and a widespread state of alarm exists.

Lord Bury, the celebrated financier, has been elected President of the Rationale Republican party in the French Chamber. He succeeds Waddington, who was worked at London to fix up the Madagascar affair some months ago.

The Empress Willem has telegraphed a message to Athens, taking pains to send it around France, giving the young King much imperial help and announcing a modest promise to the siege of a sentimental "hyper" of Prussia the treat.

Paris stands agreat to have up the German Embassy at London. That sort of the fuss went to the police and "informed," having claim to a reward. Well, the regulation got caught hold at the press, sets up the plea of a conspiracy against him.

New York financial editors look with ill-concealed envy on the progress which Chicago has lately made in becoming the central metropolitan market of the continent. The homes and warehouse which were dated not gingerly as long as New York now seem to quarrel for the erection and possession of the grandest markets ever yet thrashed forth with the steel. Chicago as the bouquets and flowers of said sentence. New York opens with confidence that they are playing Cincinnati a game with Chicago now in Cincinnati Grangers have their eye open, and find the latter very rapid be to stand both out let Chicago drive the country to turn to holding the products of the country at higher prices than Europe will pay.

A SUFFICIENT number of hospitals has lately cleared the citizens on West Monroe and Madison streets in the Western avenue region. It is asserted that the police have been utterly inefficient, and that the very grossest cases seem to be let by; whereas have been stubbornly kept from the public.

In this morning's telegraphic articles are chronicled the deaths of the Hon. William L. Scott, formerly of Erie, Pa., author, William H. Seward, of Virginia, Lieut.-Col. George D. Cross, U. S. A., retired, and Prof. Samuel S. Haldane, A. M., of Indianapolis, Ind., who celebrated his golden wedding in 1875.

A Toledo Canvasser, tired most made a contract with a North State Labor by the house of which Jacob was to have a shotgun and Lizzie's daughter is return for a year's work. Yesterday, at the end of the year, the old man gave up the shotgun in good faith, but the daughter refused the young man. What was still more illegal, according to Jacob's reading of the law, Lizzie will him she meant to marry a young man who owned her very well, but whose equity was, of course, entirely sentimental. It is the intention of Jacob to sue the non-satisfaction of contract, and to pray for an injunction.

Thanksgiving Day was celebrated yesterday according to the custom handed down by the fathers of the Republic. Special services were held in many of the churches, and the tendency to union between different denominations was even more marked than of late. The family gatherings so characteristic of this peculiarly American holiday were as numerous as ever, and the various turkey and cranberry sauce were offered up as a sacrifice to many a gross breadth. The over the Republic, the widow, and the unfortunate wholly forgotten, for the managers of the various charitable institutions made extraordinary efforts to lighten up, at least for a few hours the lives of their charges. Throughout the length and breadth of the land the day was observed with a large measure of genuine harvest and satisfaction with the year's bounties.

The New York Journal of Commerce, commenting upon the new system of commercial failure by bill of sale, says that "confidence has sustained a terrible blow," and that "the scientific mind has been staggered at the darkness of ignorance and cowardice in the management of affairs." It also suggests to merchants, pending agitation by Congress upon a National bankruptcy law, to unite in a protective organization to interpose at least a partial barrier against a repetition of the chaos and wreck they have suffered at the hands of credit-fakers during the last two months. Such a movement would be in the direction of the small which The Tribune has lately predicted from the new practice of letting out daily credits and bills receivable and leaving their general custom in the lurch, for it would mean a strict supervision and material correction of credits. It is certain that the plan of trusting out endless sums to adopted without sooner or later destroying the credit system. The "creditors" cannot enjoy their financial advantages very long; if the law does not put a stop to their practices the merchants and jobbers will do so by abolishing credits altogether.
